Lightfoot of the Rockies

Singer-Songwriter and Gordon Lightfoot Tribute Artist

Eric Elison, is a Colorado Singer-Songwriter, who has a voice reminiscent of Gordon Lightfoot. Eric recorded his first album, Westside Cafe at Studio X in Nashville, with Producer, Tom Manche. Eric's songs reflect a strong sense of the Inner Mountain West. Popular songs from his album include: Westside Cafe, and Worthy of You.

Most recently Eric has begun work on his third album of songs with strong themes of the American West. New songs on this album include: Coyote Waits, I Am Mother Nature, Buffalo Are Coming, and Call of the Wild. His song writing has caught the attention of other professionals.

Of his songs, David G. Smith, (Grammy nominated Singer-Songwriter and Winner of the 2008 of the International Song Contest) writes:

"In this age of fake news, there is nothing fake about the soothing voice of Eric Elison! It'll draw you into another world with places good for the ear, good for the heart, good for the soul. His songs paint scenes the listener can step into, become a part of, get lost in....but careful....you may not want to step back out."

At the urging of his Producer, Eric recently recorded a compilation of Gordon Lightfoot songs, that will be released on a new Album, Gordon and Me, in Summer 2019. Featured Lightfoot Hits include: If You Could Read My Mind, Sun Down, Wreck of the Edmund Fitzgerald, Rainy Day People, and Carefree Highway.
